Description

Service Description

Welcome to Ruston Street Clinic

Ruston St Clinic is a small and friendly family practice in the Bow area of East London.

The ethos is to continue with offering excellent personalised care for our local patient population and to work in collaboration, despite the current resource challenged NHS.

We strive to use technology to allow patients access to us via online or smartphone app but still keeping the traditional method of face to face and telephone based consultations.

The core principles which founded the NHS are also true to our hearts and we hope that no matter what your background or economic means you will be treated with compassion, decency and evidence based care.

Our GPs are involved with the LMC, and provide training in the Out of hours setting for trainee GPs.
